Palm Avenue to develop a Planned Residential Development with a total of 30 new residential lots for new single-family development in the R-S (Suburban Residential) District.

The letters of opposition are on file in the Development Services Department and have been summarized below:

Chairman Heidelberg inquired if the Commission needed any clarification on the proposal. Commissioner Steven Holm asked which parcel will have the citrus trees. Mr. Reilly clarified.

Chairman Heidelberg summarized some of the reoccurring concerns and recommendations as follows:

- The Historic and Scenic Preservation Commission (HSPC) acknowledged that the property is eligible for the California Register of Historical Resources and the City of Redlands Historic Register.
- Few extant citrus estates are comparable to the project site and still have all the distinguishing characteristics of citrus grove estates.
- The project applicant proposes to remove the majority of the orange groves which are important character defining elements to citrus groves estates.
- The project applicant proposes to remove irrigation and structural features that are contributing elements to the property and its eligibility.
- The walls, gates, and fences as a perimeter treatment are not typical to the period or the property and have substantial visual impacts.
- The housing proposal is dense for the time period and further diminishes the historical setting.
- The removal of character defining features are considered to be significant impacts
- The Commission does not agree that there are no adverse changes.
- Initial Study Mitigated Negative Declaration (ISMND) should not be considered adequate until additional analysis and mitigation is incorporated as previously noted by the Commission.

Vice Chairwoman Keller agreed with Chairman Heidelberg and expressed concern that there was not adequate mitigation to cultural and historic resources, and confirmed there needs to be additional documentation. Vice Chairwoman Keller noted that remaining citrus estates were rare in the City and this property was one of the only estates remaining.

Commissioner Holmes agreed with Chairman Heidelberg and stated the barn is significant and asked for additional background.

Chairman Heidelberg inquired if it is appropriate to take action at this meeting on this item or whether the project would need to return to the Commission again. Director Brian Desatnik stated staff will summarize the Commission's concerns and recommendations and will bring back a resolution to the HSPC.

Council Member Paul Barich noted two other citrus grove estates in the City, the Buoye estate and the Farquhar estate.

Commissioner Weissman stated the Buoye and Farquhar estates are in East Redlands and this property is in South Redlands and expressed the concern that the loss of this citrus grove will forever change this neighborhood.

Chairman Heidelberg stated staff will bring back a resolution on January 7th, 2021 to the HSPC and there is no motion required at this time. Chairman Heidelberg closed the Hearing.
